Introduction

Inclusion Training is a registered training organisation which operates within a disability support organisation. We believe that education is the key to growth socially, developmentally and economically. Our aim is to be the best education provider for people with a disability, as well as for other members of the community or those seeking a qualification or career within the disability sector. In doing so we follow the below principles:

Placement with Inclusion Training

Currently the Manager, Inclusion Training and Lead Trainer will oversee both accredited and pre-accredited training.

The courses offered are currently on Inclusion Melbourne's Scope of Registration. All or part of these may be offered in any given year. Most courses will take one to three years to complete.

Inclusion Training offers training in small classes with carefully constructed programs and times that cater for the individual needs of the learners.

Entry requirements for all courses

Inclusion Training has an enrolment process for the intake of all students. This process is documented in an enrolment flowchart.

Currently, courses delivered by Inclusion training do not have prerequisites, however we do require that all learners are over the age of 18. The following steps will take place prior to course commencement:

- All learners should meet with a member of Inclusion Training staff to discuss suitability of the courses on offer.
- A pre training review will take place to ensure that the student will be enrolled in the most suitable course.
- Enrolment paperwork must be fully completed and identification verified to determine funding eligibility.

Victorian resident learners that are Australian citizens, permanent residents or hold and approved Visa may be eligible for a Skills First funded place.

Check your eligibility for Skills First funding on:

<https://www.skills.vic.gov.au/victorianskillsgateway/Students/Pages/vtg-eligibility-indicator.aspx>

or, contact us on (03) 9509 4266

Entry procedure

To register your interest in a course, module or unit of competency and to start the enrolment process, please contact Inclusion Training on (03) 9509 4266 or learn@inclusiontraining.org.au

1. Classroom visit

Learners will be invited to attend a campus tour which gives them an overview of the course of their interest such as learning outcomes, course structure and requirements, reasonable adjustments, learning support programs provided and length of the course.

Learners will be explained the following:

- Any fees and methods of payment
- Government funding eligibility
- Government subsidised payments

- Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)
- Credit Transfer (CT)

Should learners decide to continue with the enrolment, they will need to complete the Enrolment Form and provide the required identification documents.

Pre-Training Interview and Learning, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) test

Following the information session, learners will have a one on one interview with the official Inclusion Training staff member. During this Pre-Training Interview they will discuss their learning aspirations, their most suitable method of learning, their learning and health support needs.

Learners will then complete an LLN test. This is designed to identify learners' current LLN abilities and to support trainers in developing individual Learning Plans and in delivering effective training.

2. Confirmation of enrolment

Enrolment form, identification documents, Pre-Training Interview and LLN test will be reviewed and a Confirmation of Enrolment Letter will be sent to learners as soon as all enrolment documents are provided and fulfil compliance requirements.

The Confirmation of Enrolment Letter will also advise the course commencement date, training session days, class location and trainer's name.

3. Cooling off

Learners have 10 business days cooling off time from the date of the Confirmation of Enrolment Letter. Learners have to inform us either via email or phone should they decide not to start the program.

Development of Individual Training Plan

Each learner will have an Individual Training Plan developed based on their learning targets and LLN abilities. This Training Plan will detail the units of competency to be achieved, the proposed timeframe and the methods of delivery and assessment.

The Training Plan is a living document which will be continually reviewed during the training program so re-negotiation can be arranged on any aspect of the plan throughout the year. Inclusion Training aims to ensure that an individual's prior learning is recognised, irrespective of where or how the learning has taken place.

To apply for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) the learner will be required to complete an RPL application form and supply further documentation, which may include evidence such as:

- o A certified copy of qualification/s
- o Verification from another training provider of the learner's results – on official letterhead
- o Documented evidence of the learner's current work including samples on request

Please request the RPL Assessment Tool-Kit for further information and discuss RPL application and fees with the Training Manager or your Trainer for the relevant course.

Document Name	Student Information Handbook
Issue Date	19/11/2019	Review Date	19/11/2020	Version No.	8
Document Control Management – Uncontrolled when printed					Page 6

Should you require Credit Transfer for units of competency successfully completed prior to enrolling, please fill in the Credit Transfer Application form and submit it along with original Statement of Attainment.

Development of Individual Learning Plan

Based on Pre-Training Interview and LLN test records, trainers will develop an Individual Learning Plan which is designed to identify learners' strengths, their further learning and development need. Trainers will find and implement the most suitable teaching methods and resources for individual students. These will be adjusted throughout the course as per students' progress.

Exiting the Program

If the learner wishes to exit the course early, then the learner is asked to have a meeting with the relevant staff to discuss the reasons. A Course Withdrawal Form is to be completed as appropriate.

Service Initiating Exit from courses

There are several factors that would cause Inclusion Training to review the service offered to a learner. These are as follows:

- It is agreed that the learner's needs /choices cannot be met by Inclusion Training
- When the support, resources and staff are no longer available to provide for the safety and wellbeing of the learner
- When the learner's behaviour (following implementation of intervention and management strategies) continues to significantly interfere with the rights and safety of others.
- Unacceptable and proven incidents of physical and /or verbal abuse. This may involve the necessary reporting to DHHS.

Disability Support Professionals and Personal Care

Inclusion Training provides Disability Support Professionals or Personal Care where needed. If assistance is needed, this must be discussed and organised with the assistance of the learner's Support Coordinator or carer or family member. All Disability Support Professional are employed by Inclusion Melbourne and have fulfilled the required recruitment and training requirements.

Inclusion Training prefers all support in training venues to be provided by Inclusion Training staff. However, in the case that a learner or their family desires to utilise the support of a third party support professional or external provider, the following guidelines must be met:

Support agencies approved/accepted by Inclusion Melbourne must:

- Be qualified or trained
- Evaluate their programs or presentations
- Be cost effective
- Enhance the role of the trainer, not replace it
- Align with current practice, principles and research

Document Name	Student Information Handbook
Issue Date	19/11/2019	Review Date	19/11/2020	Version No.	8
Document Control Management – Uncontrolled when printed					Page 7

- Consider socioeconomic, cultural and/or religious issues

It is a requirement for Inclusion Training staff to be present with learners at all times in training rooms.

External providers must:

- Have formal qualifications or relevant experience
- Where relevant, be eligible or hold registration in professional associations
- Use performance indicators to evaluate the effectiveness of their programs
- Have a good knowledge of appropriate resources
- Be adept in working with CSOs and Registered Training Organisations

External Providers will have an understanding of current practice, approaches and research:

- Link learning with educational outcomes as outlined in the training plans
- Engage in planning with the trainer as required
- Enhance the central role of the trainer
- Be guided by the trainer at all times

External Providers are to consider socioeconomic, cultural and religious issues:

- Become familiar with aspects of the organisation and its mission, vision and learning philosophy
- Use information about student cultural experiences to create an atmosphere respectful of cultural diversity
- Have well-established and acceptable positions on issues which are consistent with the values promoted by the organisation

Process for making a request for a Third Party

1. A request for a Third Party to be permitted to attend a training campus for the purpose of conducting observation for their learner or for the purpose of determining or supporting the educational needs of the learner shall be made in writing to the Manager, Inclusion Training, for review and approval.
2. The written request shall include an outline from the Third Party which sets out the following:
  - The purpose of the desired visit. If it is for classroom support, it must be clear what is required from this professional activity. The person should be from a professional governing body or accredited organisation of which the third party or their supervisor is a member.
  - Any proposed use of technology requires discussion with, and approval from, the Trainer. The use of the technologies will be measured against the expectations of privacy of the staff and learners.
  - The nature of the activities which the third party wishes to observe, such as behaviour in the classroom, interaction with others and learning techniques.
  - The proposed time of visit(s). These are to be discussed and agreed to by all parties.
3. The Third Party will provide:
  - The name of their Professional accreditation

Document Name	Student Information Handbook
Issue Date	19/11/2019	Review Date	19/11/2020	Version No.	8

- A Crim Safe check which is no more than 6 months old. Such a certificate must set out any records of offences
- Regular written notes pertaining to the supports and/or therapies provided to the learner. Frequency and content of written reports will be discussed with the trainer.

For more information about third party support providers, please see the External Providers Policy and Procedure, made available upon request.

Transport

If possible, Inclusion Training encourages learners to use public transport to and from the program. Inclusion Training will not be responsible for transport to and from training venues.

Course Delivery

Inclusion Training ensures that training and assessment occurs according with the requirement of the course. All training is provided in fully equipped training rooms. Delivery methods will be fair, equitable, valid, flexible and reliable.

All delivery and assessment will be in line with course outlines. Students will receive a timetable that shows unit/module start date and assessment due date.

At the start of each unit/module the learners will be informed about the assessment methods and the resources and materials needed. This information is provided verbally by trainers and in writing in each unit/module Assessment Pack.

Learners are recommended to attend at least 80% of scheduled sessions of each unit/module in order to enable them to achieve the skills and the knowledge required.

Learners must not attend a class for more than 8 hours a day. Inclusion Training does not operate outside the hours of 8.30am and 5pm.

Plagiarism and cheating is not permitted. See section on Plagiarism and Cheating

Assessing Competency

When assessing competency, Inclusion Training adheres to the Principles of Assessment, the Rules of Evidence, and the Dimensions of Competency to ensure learners have the skills and knowledge to a level that meets the learning requirements. These requirements are specified in the Units of Competency (UOCs).

COMPETENCY	SKILLS & KNOWLEDGE	JOB REQUIREMENTS
PRINCIPLES OF ASSESSMENT <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• VALID</li> <li>• RELIABLE</li> <li>• FLEXIBLE</li> <li>• FAIR</li> </ul>	RULES OF EVIDENCE <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• VALID</li> <li>• SUFFICIENT</li> <li>• CURRENT</li> <li>• AUTHENTIC</li> </ul>	DIMENSIONS OF COMPETENCY <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• TASK SKILLS</li> <li>• TASK MANAGEMENT SKILLS</li> <li>• CONTINGENCY SKILLS</li> <li>• JOB ROLE ENVIRONMENT SKILLS</li> </ul>

Flexible Assessment

All assessments conducted by Inclusion Training will conform to the assessment guidelines for Nationally Endorsed Training Packages or the assessment criteria attached to specific courses.

Assessment usually takes place by way of observation checklist, verbal questioning and portfolio written short answer questions. However these are flexible and at the Inclusion Training trainer's discretion in some courses as long as they meet VRQA guidelines and the minimum requirements for competency for the specific course is obtained. Flexibility allows learners to learn at their own pace and under varying conditions, which best suit their individual situations and characteristics.

To be awarded a Certificate of course completion or Statement of Attainment for the units/modules they are enrolled in, students must complete all required assessment tasks satisfactorily in order to be deemed competent.

Learners are required to be Competent in all Units in their Training Plan to achieve the qualification.

Elements that may also be included (depending on the course) in the assessment process are:

- Underpinning Knowledge for the course unit requirements
- Practical ability
- Verbal and non-verbal communication
- Personal presentation appropriate to the environment
- Problem solving. For example: learning to learn, decision making, creative thinking
- Respect for the understanding of all cultures and beliefs
- Working with others in teams
- Organising own schedules to achieve goals

As a rule of thumb, learners will generally be given three (3) opportunities to be assessed for competency in a given course or program. However, Inclusion Training may allow for further assessment opportunities where it feels there are special circumstances which are negatively affecting the outcome of assessment or where the learner presents a case that Inclusion Training feels is valid. In such circumstances, Inclusion Training may seek assistance from an outside source (counsellor, tutor, etc.) or re design student's Training Plan.

Where a learner has been assessed three times and is still Not Yet Competent (NYC), a meeting with the student and their individual support representative will be organised and possible further training strategies will be discussed.

Inclusion Training may decide to stop further training and assessment if it feels there is little chance of the learner becoming Competent.

The learner may appeal this decision in writing to the Inclusion Trainings Quality Officer or Training Manager who will consider the matter and advise the learner in writing of the outcome. This process is outlined in Inclusion Training Complaints process document, available upon request.

Document Name	Student Information Handbook
Issue Date	19/11/2019	Review Date	19/11/2020	Version No.	8
Document Control Management – Uncontrolled when printed					Page 10

A flexible assessment process will be undertaken to consider the requirements of people with special needs or situations including:

- Disability
- Cultural background
- LL&N difficulties
- Other trauma or reasons

In this case, flexibility must not lessen the overall value of a course program but should be seen as a willingness to take different avenues to reach results with the qualification while retaining the same worth and value.

Student Absence, Health and Wellbeing

The Inclusion Training Student Absence, Health and Wellbeing policy and procedure, the Occupational Health and Safety policy and procedure and Freedom from Abuse and Neglect policy and procedure aim to protect learners, staff, and others at its workplace and training venues. Inclusion Training complies with all relevant safety legislation.

- Inclusion Training staff as members of the venues' OHS committees

When delivering training and assessment, Inclusion Training is responsible for safety issues and has to abide by workplace safety responsibilities. If required, Inclusion Training will review the workplace and make any recommendations to amend any problems.

Trainers and all persons delivering training to the learners will share responsibility for the safety of all. They will actively take steps to identify hazards, which may cause harm in their area of control and take prompt action to remove or control, or alternatively report them to another person who has the authority and capability to take action.

The Manager, Lead Trainer and Trainer and Assessors may delegate safety duties or activities to others, but responsibility remains with them.

Learners must take care of their own health and safety and that of their fellow learners to the extent of their capability. This means they must follow all safety rules during their day to day training activities.

Plagiarism and Cheating

Vocational Education and Training allows for 'copy and paste'. In best practice learners should acknowledge their sources of information. However referencing is not a requirement.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating and is a serious offence which may result in a penalty such as a learner's assessment being declared 'Not Competent/Satisfactory' or their exclusion from a course.

Plagiarism occurs when a learner claims ownership for written words/data, ideas or inventions which are not their own. Examples of plagiarism that are not acceptable as per Inclusion Training Policies are:

- Submitting assessments substantially similar to, or copied from another learner (collusion);
- Submitting assessments that use the exact words of another without using quotation marks and citing the original source;
- Presenting any work of another individual or group as one's own work;

Cheating means seeking to obtain an unfair advantage in an examination or in other written assessments or practical work required to be submitted or completed by a learner for assessment.

If there are no substantial factors to indicate that plagiarism was accidental or unintentional, plagiarism will be treated as cheating. An Inclusion Training assessor who has reasonable grounds to believe that cheating has occurred will mark the assessment as requiring resubmission and report the matter to the Inclusion Training Compliance Officer.

Document Name	Student Information Handbook
Issue Date	19/11/2019	Review Date	19/11/2020	Version No.	8
Document Control Management – Uncontrolled when printed					Page 15

Where a learner's works has been assessed as requiring resubmission for cheating, the Inclusion Training assessor must advise the learner concerned in writing of the reasons for the decision and advise the learner that they may appeal this decision in writing to the Inclusion Training Compliance Officer within ten (10) working days. Upon receipt of a written learner appeal, the Inclusion Training Compliance Officer will assign an independent Inclusion Training assessor to consider the appeal. The independent Inclusion Training assessor will provide written advice regarding the outcome of the appeal to the learner, the original Inclusion Training assessor, and the Inclusion Training Compliance Officer.

A learner found copying the work of others in practical assessments will also be considered as cheating. At the time of such an incident, the Inclusion Training assessor will advise the learner of their misconduct and that the assessment will need to be resubmitted and will report the incident to the Inclusion Training Compliance Officer. The Inclusion Training assessor will confirm the incident and this advice in writing to the learner concerned and advise the learner they may appeal this decision in writing to the Inclusion Training Manager within ten (10) working days. Upon receipt of a written learner appeal, the Inclusion Training Manager will assign an independent Inclusion Training assessor to consider the appeal. The independent Inclusion Training assessor will provide written advice regarding the outcome of the appeal to the learner, the original Inclusion Training assessor, and the Inclusion Training Compliance Officer.

Fees and Refunds

Learners may be asked to pay a tuition fee, and a support s fee. The current Schedule of Fees is on the Inclusion Training website.

Inclusion Training charges learners according to the following guidelines:

- The Schedule of Fees outlines Course fees and government contribution for funded courses. Support fees are charged under an NDIS plan according to the individual learners' support needs. Course and Support Fees will be invoiced as separate items as learners with government funding, eg. an NDIS plan, are not permitted to use this package to cover course fees. When applicable, course fees will therefore be invoiced directly to learners. Please contact the Inclusion Training office for more information.
- Fees do not cover transportation to and from the venue, meals or individuals specialised materials that may be required.
- Where a course fee is applicable, learners are expected to pay for the course in accordance with an invoice raised by the Finance department and should be paid within one month of commencement of the program. The payment will be receipted.
- Inclusion Training has a Fees and Refunds policy and procedure. If the learner wishes to withdraw from training after commencement of the course, please advise the Manager and/or Trainer and Assessor. Requests must be submitted formally, using the Withdrawal and Refund Form. In cases of financial hardship, learners may apply for an exemption or reduction of fees using the Financial Hardship Form, available on the website. Please discuss this with the Manager, Inclusion Training, at the time of enrolment.

Learner cancellation

Learners who cancel their enrolment must notify us in writing at the soonest opportunity using the Withdrawal and Refund Form. Refunds for course fees are issued at the discretion of the Manager, Inclusion Training.

All requests for cancellations, refunds, changes or transfers must be requested in writing to learn@inclusiontraining.org.au

Course Cancellation (Initiated by Inclusion Training)

Where Inclusion Training is forced to cancel a course, learners will be entitled to transfer to another Inclusion Training course if available or receive a full refund of course fees.

Inclusion Training Responsibility

Inclusion Training will guarantee:

In the event that Inclusion Training is no longer able to provide the training and assessment services as initially agreed, then Inclusion Training will arrange for the training and assessment to be completed through another RTO if available. This will be undertaken via the following steps:

Step 1: Inclusion Training will inform the learner that delivery of the course cannot be continued and provide details as to why.

Step 2: Inclusion Training will inform the learner of the details of the alternate course delivery.

Step 3: Inclusion Training will organise the transfer to the new provider.

Step 4: Inclusion Training will document the process and provide details to the registering authority.

Complaints

Inclusion Training recognises four complaints processes in its engagement with staff, volunteers and learners. These are:

1. General operational complaints

Complaints about any of the following aspects of Inclusion Melbourne's operations will be engaged according to Inclusion Melbourne's Stakeholder Satisfaction, Feedback and Complaints policy and procedure.

- Service delivery
- Support of people with a disability
- Interaction with staff and volunteers
- Management of learner placements
- Inappropriate behaviour of people associated with the organisation in relation to the provision of services

2. Bullying, harassment, discrimination, sexual harassment and assault.

Complaints relating to bullying, harassment, discrimination, sexual harassment and assault will be engaged according to Inclusion Melbourne's Bullying, Harassment and Discrimination policy and procedure and Sexual Harassment and Assault policy and procedure.

All complaints relating to Bullying, Harassment, Discrimination and Sexual Harassment shall follow the process specified in the Bullying, Harassment and Discrimination Policy and Procedure and the Sexual Harassment Policy and Procedure. Issues requiring disciplinary action will follow the Staff Discipline Policy and Procedure.

Complaint processes are open to an appeals process stipulated in the stated policy and procedure documents.

3. Operational grievances

Where a grievance results from an interaction between learners and Inclusion Training staff, between a learner and another learner within the RTO, or between Inclusion Training staff (where the complaint arises from a matter relating to training or RTO management), learners and Inclusion Training staff are to follow the procedures as outlined in the Student Complaints flowchart.

If a complaint is unable to be resolved, then the Complainant will be referred to the Disability Ombudsman or Commissioner or the Victorian Registration and Qualifications Authority (VRQA) to investigate the matter further and an independent arbitrator will be used to resolve the complaint/s.

The Training Manager will document complaints using a Complaints Investigation Form.

4. Appeals related to a learner's assessment result(s)

A learner may wish to contest a Not Yet Competent mark conferred by a trainer and assessor. If a learner believes that they have not received a fair and accurate assessment mark then the following process applies:

1. Learner or advocate of learner will discuss concerns with the Trainer and Assessor to initially discuss the assessment. This must occur within 5 days of the concern being raised.
2. If after discussing the problem with the Trainer and Assessor, the learner or advocate still believes that the matter requires reassessment, the learner or advocate will bring the matter to the Lead Trainer or Training Manager for further discussion and conciliation. This will be classed as an Appeal.
3. If the matter cannot be resolved at this level or the learner/advocate still believes the mark is not accurate, the learner or assessor may request a review of the initial assessment by another trainer.
4. If the additional trainer determines that the learner is competent, the Lead Trainer or Training Manager will approve the mark before entering it into the Learner Management System.
5. If an additional trainer also determines that the learner is Not Yet Competent, the Lead Trainer or Training Manager will communicate this outcome to the learner or advocate in writing.
6. If the learner or advocate wishes to contest this decision, Inclusion Training will request that the learner formally appeals to the VRQA to receive a completely independent review.

All appeals and complaints will be lodged in the Inclusion Melbourne Feedback Register, stored on the Inclusion Melbourne server.

Industry Partners

Inclusion Training engages with industry partners for training validation and moderation processes.

Continuous Improvement

Inclusion Training continuously strives to improve its services. We conduct surveys annually and encourage all learners and staff to complete them. The results are collated into a report that is presented to management and Trainers and Assessors who will then make recommendations and determine actions and changes needed. All staff are encouraged to comment and add to the Inclusion Training Continuous Improvement Register. These are identified at regular planning team meetings and acted upon where necessary.

Glossary of Terms

RTO	Registered Training Organisation
VET	Vocational Education and Training
Training Package	A training package is a set of nationally endorsed standards and qualifications for recognising and assessing people's skills in a specific industry, industry sector or enterprise. They are developed by national Industry Skills Councils (ISCs). Training packages are designed to enable diverse and relevant vocational learning outcomes, and to regulate training outcomes through nationally recognised qualifications. Despite the name, training packages do not describe how people should be trained. Rather, they provide the nationally endorsed industry standards against which training can be developed and flexibly delivered to meet particular local, individual, industry and enterprise requirements. In short: Training packages are groups of vocational education and training (VET) qualifications required for jobs within an industry. There are over 70 training packages and hundreds of qualifications.
Accredited Course	Accredited courses address industry, enterprise, educational, legislative or community needs that are not covered in nationally endorsed Training Packages. Accredited courses can respond to changing skill requirements, including changes to the needs of emerging and converging industries and sectors.
Qualification	Australia has a system of qualifications called the Australian Qualification Framework (AQF). The AQF ensure national recognition and consistency and common understanding across Australia, of what defines each qualification. There are 10 levels of qualifications ranging from Certificate I through to Doctoral Degree. Qualifications are made up of individual units of competency (like subjects). The units that are included in a qualification are guided by the packaging rules of the qualification. They are made up of core (mandatory) and elective subjects (which are usually selected for you by the RTO or you may have flexibility to select your own – in line with the packaging rules)
Competency	Competency Based Training requires learners to demonstrate that they can do a task, activity or exercise well enough to be assessed as competent. Learners are assessed against a benchmark 'Unit of competency' and they must be successful at the given tasks related to this unit to complete the unit and be deemed 'competent'.

Unit of competency	Your course is made up of a number of 'units of competency'. Each unit is an area of work relevant to your industry or the job role related to your studies. These units contain the benchmarks or criteria that you will be assessed against.
Assessment	You will be issued with assessments that you will need to complete in order to be deemed competent in each unit of competency you are enrolled in. Assessment could include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Verbal Questioning</li> <li>• Portfolio</li> <li>• Observation Checklist</li> </ul>
Satisfactory	When assessing your work your assessor will form or make an assessment decision on each assessment you submit. When you receive feedback for an individual assessment task (e.g. your theory assessment) your assessor will assess if your work is 'satisfactory' or 'not satisfactory'. If your assessment met the required criteria – you will be given a 'satisfactory' result.
Not Satisfactory	If based on the scenario above your assessment submission did not meet the criteria you will be given a 'not satisfactory' result. You will be provided with constructive feedback and the opportunity to go back and revise your submission in line with feedback provided.
Competent	Once your assessor has collected all of the evidence for all of the assessment tasks relating to the specific unit of competence only then will they make a decision of whether you are 'competent' or 'not competent' against the unit requirements. If you meet the requirements your assessor will determine that you have been deemed 'competent' in that unit.
Not Competent	If you have not yet met the requirements for the unit of competency and your assessor needs further evidence to prove your competence you will be deemed 'not competent'. In this event you will be allowed further time to achieve competency. Competency based training must allow for more than 1 attempt at achieving competency – Inclusion Training allows 3 attempts.
